UM PHARMACY COURSE
PRESENTED VIA TELEVISION

MISSOULA--

A winter quarter University of Montana pharmacy course, entitled "The Use and Abuse of Drugs," is being presented as a public service via local cable television for Missoula area residents and students wishing to take the class from home.

The three-credit class, listed as Pharmacy 110, is being shown from 4:30-5:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays over Channel 9. Each week's programs will be videotaped at 9 a.m. on the same days in room 131 of the Science Complex.

Classes began Wednesday (Jan. 3) and will continue each week until March 12. No programs are scheduled for Jan. 31, Feb. 12, 19 or 28.

Dr. Robert L. Van Horne, dean of the UM School of Pharmacy, one of two instructors of the course, said in addition to the regular class presentation and videotape showing, students may also review each week's lectures during the following Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7-9 p.m. in room 109 of the Chemistry-Pharmacy Building.

"The course is open to non-pharmacy majors and is being presented as a public service to residents of Missoula," Dr. Van Horne said.

The class focuses on the various types of drugs, the effects of drugs on the body, the dangers in taking drugs, and the legal, sociological and psychological factors involved.

Assisting Dr. Van Horne in the course is Dr. Raymond J. Bennett, UM pharmacy professor.
